

People and Place - Seminar

Wednesday 17 October 2007

Time: 13.30 to 16.00

Venue: 7ABC Ashdown House

Chair: Michael Parkinson

The seminar involving members of the expert panel will respond to the framework that is developing in the department on the rationale for a focus on place and under what circumstances place matters, and how to strengthen this and take it forward. The framework focuses on why we need to understand place, how place matters and what place means for policy.

Agenda

From 13.00	Sandwiches and refreshments available
13.30-13.40	Welcome and Introduction (including update on expert panel)	Michael Parkinson
13.40-14.20	Developing a framework for why place matters (incl Q&A)	Diana Cook /Andrea Lee NCRA
14.20	Response:	Expert Panel
14.25-14.45	1. Patricia Rice, University of Oxford (incl Q&A)
14.45-15.05	2. Ivan Turok, University of Glasgow (incl Q&A)
15.05-15.50	Discussion
15.50-16.00	Conclusions and next steps	Andrea Lee
16.00	Close	