About the CCSE Critical Research Seminar Series

“This seminar series offers a platform for guest speakers to discuss their past, present and ongoing research within the fields of crime, criminalisation, marginalization and social exclusion; and/or their involvement with a variety of campaigning and community groups affected by such processes. Cohering with the focus and aims of the CCSE, the emphasis of the seminar series is upon critical research and/or practice. It aims, in particular, to provide a forum for individuals, groups, experiences and views which typically struggle to be heard.”
