
Terms and conditions for online applications

By submitting your application you are accepting the following conditions:

Contact Arrangements

You are giving LJMU permission to contact you on matters directly related to your application. We will try to contact you whenever possible by your preferred method; if this is not possible or practical in the circumstances at the time, we will try to contact you by another method you have given us.

General

You should read LJMU's literature, particularly Factfiles, relating to the course(s), for which you are applying in order to ensure that you are familiar with the curriculum and entry requirements.

The Data Protection Act 1998

Liverpool John Moores University is registered as a Data Controller with the office of the Information Commissioner as required under the Data Protection Act 1998. The University only processes prospective student data in accordance with the Data Protection Act and for the purposes notified to the Information Commissioner. The information you provide on your application form will be used for the following purposes:

- To enable your application for entry to be considered.
- To enable the University to initiate your student record should you be accepted
- To compile statistics for use by the University
- For reporting to relevant Government agencies and departments, but no information that will identify you as an individual, unless there is a legal requirement to do so, e.g. to the UK Border Agency

Important Note

LJMU takes all reasonable steps to provide educational services in the manner set out in publications, including electronic publications, such as its web site. Should industrial action or other circumstances beyond the control of the institution interfere with its ability to provide such services, we undertake to use all reasonable steps to minimise the resultant disruption to educational services. The institution does not undertake any absolute obligation whatsoever to provide educational services in the manner specified in any document, including electronic publications, such as its web site, nor does it undertake any other obligation in respect of the provision of educational services which is more onerous than the obligations set out herein.