

Returning library books

We have had a number of enquiries from students about returning library books.

We are looking at various options to make this as simple and convenient as possible and we have automatically renewed all books currently out on loan.

Students based in the UK

If you have not already left Liverpool, please take your library books with you when you do so.

We are currently working on a process for you to be able to return the books to us from home. We will confirm details of this as soon as we are able to.

Students leaving the UK

If you are leaving the UK before our libraries reopen please contact our library service using the online form.

Returning students

If you are continuing your studies at LJMU in the next academic year, please keep hold of your books and return them in person when our libraries reopen.
