

All LJMU buildings are now closed until further notice.

No access to our buildings is permitted, with the exception of those who are working on essential Nursing and Allied Health business.

We are now operating as a virtual university. Academic and support services are available to all staff and students via online platforms and telephone.

We know that these arrangements are inconvenient but we are trying to put the health and safety of all of our students and staff first.

Thank you for your understanding and support in this extraordinary situation. We will continue to keep you updated.
