

The Rice-Jones Scholarship

Terms and Conditions

1. The Rice-Jones Scholarship ("the Scholarship") is open to any individual who can demonstrate academic promise, commitment to the legal profession and financial need. It is expected that entrants will have accepted a place to study a postgraduate law course, including but not limited to the Graduate Diploma in Law, Legal Practice Course, Bar Professional Training Course or Masters in Law.
2. The Scholarship will be awarded at the absolute discretion of the trustees of the Rice-Jones Charitable Trust ("the Trustees") to successful candidates who have submitted either a digital or written scholarship application form.
3. The Trustees may request any applicant to attend interview in order to inform the exercise of their discretion in awarding the Scholarship.
4. The amount offered and purpose for which the Scholarship is offered is at the absolute discretion of the Trustees and may vary per individual. The Scholarship may cover grants of between £250 and £3000.
5. The Trustees may require the Scholarship to be paid directly to the successful entrant's course provider.
6. If any shortlisted or successful entrants cannot be contacted for any reason, the Trustees reserve the right to withdraw the award and re-select another candidate.
7. Scholarships are not transferable to another individual or academic year.
8. The Trustees are not required to acknowledge all individual entries. The decision of the judging panel is final and individual correspondence regarding decisions made will not be entered into. The Trustees are unable to return application entries once submitted. Individual feedback on unsuccessful applications will not be provided.
9. Successful applicants will be invited to participate in any further promotional activity required by the Trustees.
10. Application forms must be the entrant's own work. Entries sent to the wrong email or posting address, or received after the closing date, will not be considered.
11. Completion and submission of an entry will be deemed acceptance of these terms and conditions.
12. These terms and conditions will be governed by and construed in accordance with English law and the matters relating to these terms and conditions will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England.
