Section One: Why Reference?

When writing up an assignment it is important that you provide details of the various resources you have consulted. You need to use a recognised referencing system.

The Harvard system is the one used most frequently here at LJMU and this guide will help you learn how it works. There is also an online tutorial in the Skills@LJMU area of the LJMU website: https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/microsites/library_skills-ljmu

When do you need to give a reference?

- if you quote the exact words of another author
- if you paraphrase or summarise a passage by another author
- if you use an idea or material based directly on the work of another author

Why should you reference?

- it enables you to find easily an item you have consulted previously
- it allows you to pass on to a friend or colleague details of an item that you have consulted, secure in the knowledge that he/she will be able to trace it easily
- it helps the reader understand how you have reached your conclusions
- to avoid accusations of plagiarism
- it enables you to identify the sources of quotations

Referencing involves inserting brief details, usually the item’s author’s last name and year of publication within round brackets, e.g. (Neville, 2009) or Neville (2009), at the appropriate point in your text and full details of the item in a reference list at the end of your work. The entry in the reference list for Neville’s book would be

Before submitting an assignment, check that your reference list includes accurate and full details of all the items you refer to in the assignment.

When do you not need to give a reference?

In all academic and professional fields some ideas are regarded as “common knowledge” and do not need to be referenced. Pears and Shields define common knowledge as “facts, dates, events and information that are expected to be known by someone studying or working in a particular field”
(2010, p.2). They suggest that students who are unsure whether “the material you want to use in your assignment constitutes common knowledge, ... need to ask ... the following questions:

- Did I know this information before I started my course?
- Did this information/idea come from my own brain?

If the answer to either or both of the questions is “No”, then the information is not common knowledge. In these cases you need to cite and reference your source(s).” (2010, p.3)

Is there a difference between a bibliography and a list of references?

Some people use these terms synonymously. However, according to the British Standards Institution: “A bibliography identifies books and articles relevant to the text; it is not restricted to items cited in the text... A list of references is confined to publications cited in the text” (BSI, 2000, p.16).

Brief definitions of some more terms which you might encounter

Bibliography: a list of sources you have consulted during your research

Citation: an in-text reference to an author/source

Direct Quotation: the actual words used by the author

Ellipsis: using 3 dots within a quotation to show there are missing/omitted words

Et al: Latin for “and others” this is used in citations to items by more than three authors

Ibid: means “as mentioned directly above”. You can use it when you are citing an author for a second time, if you have not cited another item in between.

Indirect Quotation: paraphrasing or altering slightly an author’s words

Op. cit: means “work already cited in a different part of the text” and is not used in Harvard system.

Paraphrasing: altering an author’s words to your own, you must cite the original.

Reference List: list of sources you have referred to in your assignment

Sic: between square brackets, i.e. [sic] after a quotation indicates that any spelling mistakes or grammatical errors are not yours
Section Two: Handling quotations

A quotation helps you support an argument and illustrate the range of your research. Before including a quotation, stop to consider whether it is really relevant. It is important that a quotation is easily identifiable as such and accompanied by a page number.

Pages for quotes can presented in a number of different ways, using a comma after the year or a colon, e.g.

Titmuss (1958, p.51) or Titmuss (1958: 51)

(Titmuss, 1958, p.51) or (Titmuss, 1958 p.51) or (Titmuss, 1958: 51)

Choose one of these styles and use it consistently.

Please note: you should always check with your programme leader, module handbook or school to ensure what referencing style should be used.

The way in which you should present quotations depends upon their length.

A quotation of three lines or less: should be enclosed in quotation marks and included in the body of the essay, for example:

“Occupational welfare includes those benefits that accrue to wage and salary earners over and above their pay, including those referred to as fringe benefits” (Titmuss, 1958 p.51).

We recommend that longer quotations are indented (they can be enclosed in inverted commas but it is not necessary) and presented in single-line spacing, for example:

Titmuss (1958, p.51) illustrates this occupational division of welfare with the following examples:

- pensions for employees, wives and dependents; child allowances; death duties;
- health and welfare services; personal expenses for travel, entertainment, dress and equipment; meal vouchers; motor cars and season tickets ... and an incalculable variety of benefits in kind ranging from obvious forms of realisable goods to the most intangible forms of amenity.

The receipt of shares in a company is one of many common benefits

Alternatively:

- pensions for employees, wives and dependents; child allowances; death duties;
- health and welfare services; personal expenses for travel, entertainment, dress and equipment; meal vouchers; motor cars and season tickets ... and an incalculable variety of benefits in kind ranging from obvious forms of realisable goods to the most intangible forms of amenity (Titmuss, 1958 p.51).
Quotations from webpages: you can use the number of the line or the paragraph number to help pinpoint information, for example:

According to Bebbington and Parkinson (2012, para.4) “opportunities are deteriorating for children to experiment with different and lesser known sports”.

According to Bebbington and Parkinson (2012, line 22) “opportunities are deteriorating for children to experiment with different and lesser known sports”.

Always reproduce quotations exactly, including their punctuation. You should even reproduce any spelling or grammatical errors from the original. Insert [sic] immediately afterwards to indicate that the error was made in the original and not as you were transcribing it.

You may make alterations or additions to a quoted passage to help your reader's comprehension or to fit the quotation neatly into your sentence or paragraph. Enclose any words that you add in square brackets [ ] and insert three dots ... to indicate omissions.

Quotations on websites

If you want to quote from a website, you can use the paragraph number or line number to pinpoint the information:

GOV.UK (2016, para.4) or (GOV.UK, 2016 para.4) or (GOV.UK, 2016, para.4)

GOV.UK (2016, line 10) or (GOV.UK, 2016 line 10) or (GOV.UK, 2016, line 10)

Available at: https://www.gov.uk/types-of-school/overview
[Accessed: 16th July 2016]

If the author is quoting another person (Secondary Reference)

Author (year) Name of person quoting. Name of the Website [online]
Available at:
[Accessed: ]

Cited as: Person quoting (quoted in Author, year)

For example, this is from an online newspaper

[Accessed: 18th October 2016]
Schmidt (quoted in Robinson, 2011 para.12) declared "I was flabbergasted to learn that today computer science isn't even taught as standard in UK schools."

Section Three: Authors

Some general points about authors

If you can identify the name of a person or persons credited with the creation of an item, that is who you should regard as its author. Authors are referenced using their last name and their initials (not their full name(s)) without any titles or qualifications. For example,

Professor Stephen W. Hawking would be: Hawking, S.W.

Cited as: Hawking (1988) or (Hawking, 1988)

All the authors credited should be included in the reference and listed in the order in which they appear on the title page.

References to edited publications need to include an abbreviation to identify the editor(s). For example:

Edited by Geoffrey Campbell-Platt would be: Campbell-Platt, G. (ed.)

The (ed.) is not included a citation: Campbell-Platt (2012) or (Campbell-Platt, 2012)

If the publication has been written by an organisation or society, for example, Joseph Rowntree Foundation, and you can find no named person, treat the organisation/society as the author.

Cited as: Joseph Rowntree Foundation (2014) or (Joseph Rowntree Foundation, 2014)

Items by one Author

Cited as: Gottfried (1983) or (Gottfried, 1983)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Gottfried (1983, p.45) or (Gottfried, 1983 p.45). See section 2 above for more details.

Items by two Authors

Cited as: Gopee and Galloway (2019) or (Gopee and Galloway, 2019)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Gopee and Galloway (2019, p.89) or (Gopee and Galloway, 2019 p.89). See section 2 above for more details.
Items by three Authors

Cited as: Field, Holden and Lawlor (2000) or (Field, Holden and Lawlor, 2000)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Field, Holden and Lawlor (2000, p.55) or (Field, Holden and Lawlor, 2000 p.55). See section 2 above for more details.

Items by more than three Authors

If a publication has more than three authors, give all the authors’ names in the full reference in the order in which they are listed in the item:

In your assignment, give just the name of the first author followed by et al. (Latin for and others) in your citation: (Thornton et al., 2005) or Thornton et al. (2005)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. (Thornton et al., 2005 p.55) or Thornton et al (2005, p.55). See section 2 above for more details.

Items by an Editor or Compiler

Treat the editor or compiler of a work in the same way as an author and indicate his/her function in brackets, e.g. (ed.), (comp.) in the full reference but not in the text.

Cited as: Bell, Neary and Stevenson, (2009) or (Bell, Neary and Stevenson, 2009)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Bell, Neary and Stevenson, (2009, p.56) or (Bell, Neary and Stevenson, 2009 p.56). See section 2 above for more details.

Items with no Author

If it is unclear who wrote a publication; for example, a dictionary, it is usually referred to in the text by its title and entered in the reference list under its title:

Cited as: Encarta Concise English Dictionary (2001) or (Encarta Concise English Dictionary, 2001)
Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Encarta Concise English Dictionary (2001, p.22) or (Encarta Concise English Dictionary, 2001 p.22). See section 2 above for more details.

Items produced by an Organisation

If a publication is produced by an organisation and no individual is credited as the author, treat the organisation as the author.

Royal College of Nursing (2011) Accountability and delegation: what you need to know. London: Royal College of Nursing

If the organisation is well known by an acronym or its initials, the first time you refer to their item, provide the organisation’s full name in your text followed by its abbreviated name in brackets, for example:

...In its updated guidance on the topic the Royal College of Nursing (RCN) (2011) now recommends ...

If you need to refer to the organisation again, refer to it by its abbreviated name. Use the full name of the organisation in your reference list.

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Royal College of Nursing (RCN) (2011, p.45) or (Royal College of Nursing (RCN), 2011 p.45). See section 2 above for more details.

Anonymity in the interests of Confidentiality

You may sometimes need to withhold names in order to preserve confidentiality - such as on school or hospital placements:

School A (Name withheld, 2014) School Behaviour Policy/website

School (Name withheld, 2014) Name of the Policy/website

Ofsted (year) Inspection under Section 9 of the Education (Schools) Act 1994: School A (Name Withheld)

Same Author Different Years

List works by the same author published in different years in chronological order (earliest first) in your reference list

Same Author Same Year

If you refer to more than one work by an author published in the same year, add a lower case letter in alphabetical order to the references after the year to differentiate between them.

Cited as: Capel (2010a) or (Capel, 2010a) (Capel, 2010b) or (Capel, 2010b)

Quotes need a page number see section 2 for more details. e.g. Capel (2010a, p.25) or (Capel, 2010a p.25)

Citing Different Authors Same Last Name and Year

If you are referring to items by different authors with the same last name published in the same year include their initial to distinguish between them, e.g. (M. Smith, 2009) and (V. Smith, 2009)

Citing Multiple Sources/Authors

If you refer to more than one item at the same point in your text, list the items in order of publication date (earliest first): e.g.

Several studies (Robinson, 1997; Jones, 2003; Patel, 2006) indicate that..

References found in other publications (secondary referencing)

You may want to quote a work which you have seen quoted by another author. If you have not read the work concerned, this is called a secondary reference. The citation for this work should include both the author of the work you have read and the one you have not read. In your reference list provide full details of the item which you have read.

For example: since Jones’ book is the one you have read, that is the item which should appear in your reference list.

Section Four: Compiling a Reference List

A reference list normally consists of full details of all the items you have referred to in your assignment. Entries in the list are arranged in a single alphabetical sequence by author’s last name regardless of whether they are references to books, journal articles or other items.

A short sample reference list

Department for Education (2010) Children and young people [online]
Available at: http://www.education.gov.uk/childrenandyoungpeople
[Accessed 19th April 2019]

Available through ScienceDirect
[Accessed: 18th April 2019]

UNICEF (2007) Article 28 [online video]
Available at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zWo0aYvx7xk&feature=relmfu
[Accessed: 19th April 2019]

Notes on the above list

- References to materials by the same author are arranged by their date of publication.
- If you are referring to items by different authors with the same last name published in the same year include their initial to distinguish between them, e.g. (Smith, M, 2009) and (Smith, V, 2009)
- Page numbers are only included in reference list entries for journal articles, conference papers and essays.
- To add a note, insert a number, e.g. [1], (1), ¹ at the appropriate point in the text and include the note at the end of the essay before the list of references.
- Check that you have included in your reference list full and accurate details of all the items you have referred to in your assignment
Section Five: Sample references

Acts of Parliament

Armed Forces Act 1996: Chapter 33 [online]
Available at: http://www.hmso.gov.uk/acts/acts1996/1996046.htm
[Accessed: 10th April 2019]

Cited by the title of the act, e.g. Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001

Advanced Publication/Advanced Access Journal Articles

Some journal articles are published online prior to their print or final publication date. These are typically called Advanced Access or Online First Articles.

When they are first made available these articles often do not have volume, issue or page details and only have a DOI or “digital object identifier”. The DOI is unique to that article and remains the same once the article is assigned to a volume and issue with page numbers.

Author (year) Title of the article. Title of the Journal [First Published online Date]. DOI. [Accessed: date]

[Accessed: 20th June 2020]

Cited as: (Ross, 2013) or Ross (2013)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. (Ross, 2013 p.2) or Ross (2013, p.2). See section 2 above for more details.

If there are no page numbers on the PDF use the numbers provided in the PDF toolbar

Advertisements - Print for a theatrical performance

Amended or Updated old texts

Because the text has been changed or altered use the current date and acknowledge the original year of publication after the title:

Cited as: Locke (2007) or (Locke, 2007)

Anonymity in the interests of Confidentiality

You may sometimes need to withhold names in order to preserve confidentiality - such as on school or hospital placements:

School A (Name withheld, 2014) School Behaviour Policy/website

School (Name withheld, 2014) Name of the Policy/website

Ofsted (year) Inspection under Section 9 of the Education (Schools) Act 1994: School A (Name Withheld)

Apps

The author would be the name of the Company who created the app.

Author (year) Title of the App [app] Available at [Accessed: ???]

Blogs

Author, Year. Title of individual blog entry. Blog title [blog], Blog posting date.

Cited in the body of your assignment as: (Berry, 2011) or Berry (2011)

Quotations: you can use a paragraph or line number to pinpoint the location: (Berry, 2011 para.3) or Berry (2011, para.3) (Berry, 2011 line 24) or Berry (2011, line 24)

Newspaper blogs

Cited as: Bebbington and Parkinson (2012) or (Bebbington and Parkinson, 2012)

Quotations: you can use a paragraph or line number to pinpoint the location: Bebbington and Parkinson (2012, para.3) or (Bebbington and Parkinson, 2012 para.3)

Books

Checklist of details to include in a reference to a printed book:

- Author’s name – Last name and initials
- Year of publication - in brackets
- Title and subtitle (if any) of the book, this is normally underlined or set in italics
- Edition (only include this if it is a second or subsequent edition)
- Place of publication
- Publisher’s name

You can normally find this information on the title page and the back of the title page.

Items by one Author

Cited as: Gottfried (1983) or (Gottfried, 1983)
Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Gottfried (1983, p.45) or (Gottfried, 1983 p.45). See section 2 above for more details.

Book Chapters

If you want to refer to a chapter from an edited work, you need to include the details of that chapter and also full details of the book in the reference list. In the text of your assignment you need to cite the author of the chapter and not the editor of the book.

Cited as: Offe and Ronge (1982) or (Offe and Ronge, 1982)

Quotations should be followed by a page number. See section 2 above for more details. e.g. Offe and Ronge (1982, p.83) or (Offe and Ronge, 1982 p.83)

If the book is written or compiled by an editor, you should reference the whole book.

Chapters in an edited work

To refer to a chapter from an edited work, you need to provide both details of the chapter concerned and full details of the book in the reference list. In the text of your assignment, cite the author of the chapter and not the editor of the book.

Cited as: Offe and Ronge (1982) or (Offe and Ronge, 1982)

Quotations should be followed by a page number. See section 2 above for more details. e.g. Offe and Ronge (1982, p.83) or (Offe and Ronge, 1982 p.83)

If the book is not written or compiled by an editor, you should reference the whole book.

Command Papers

Different abbreviations have been used to identify command papers over the decades. Be sure to use the abbreviation which was in force when the command paper was published, i.e.

Cd. for those published 1900-1918
Cmd. for those published 1919-1956
Cmnd. for those published 1956-1986
Cm. for those published since 1986
Denning, A.T. (1963) Report in the light of circumstances surrounding the resignation of the former Secretary of State for War, Mr. J.D. Profumo (Cmd.2152) London: H.M.S.O.

Computer Programs

The program is normally referred to by its name in the text without mention of its release date. Include the version or release number in the reference list entry.

Conference Papers

Available at: [Accessed: ……]

Cited as: Palmer (2008) or (Palmer, 2008)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Palmer (2008, p.43) or (Palmer, 2008 p.43). See section 2 above for more details.

Conversations

Surname, Initial (year) Conversation with Name of Person. Date of the conversation.

Note that none of the details should be set in italics.
Court cases

This advice is intended for students in subject areas other than law who need to refer to court cases relatively infrequently. Law students should normally provide OSCOLA style references when citing legal authorities.

Format for in-text citations: (Names of parties involved, Year)

Examples (R v Jones, 2009)

or

In R v Jones (2009) ...

Full reference: Names of parties involved [Year] Standard abbreviated name of law report, volume number (if available), pages (if available)

Example: R v Jones [2009] EWCA Crim, 120

Standard abbreviations of titles and the full forms of standard title abbreviations are available from http://www.legalabbrevs.cardiff.ac.uk/

Interfile full references to court cases in your reference list under the first party to the case.

Dance Performances from a collection on a DVD

You may want to cite an individual dance which is part of a compilation on a DVD or from an online source.

Extracts from a CD/DVD/Film/Video

You may want to refer to a specific part or extract from a full length item. You should reference the item in the following way providing the starting point within the film/track and the end time of the extract.

Extracts from a DVD/online video:

Title of the film/Video/DVD (year) [format] Directed by....... Place of Production: Production Company. Start-end time of extract using 24 hour clock
The following example is a 2 minutes and 5 seconds extract from a film:

Million Dollar Baby (2005) [extract, Film] Directed by Clint Eastwood. USA: Warner Brothers. (148 mins) 00:04:30 - 00:06:35 mins

Cited as: (Million Dollar Baby, 2005)

You may want to quote a specific part from the DVD so use the 24 hour clock to indicate the starting point: Million Dollar Baby (2005: 00:04:30) or (Million Dollar Baby, 2005: 00:04:30)

Format could be noted as: [extract, DVD] [extract, online video] [extract, Film]

Extracts from a journal article online

Author (year) Title of the article [extract]. Title of the Journal in italics [online], v. (issue), pp-pp
Available at: [Accessed:  ]

Cited as: Author (year) or (Author, year) p

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Author (year, p.?) or (Author, year p.?). See section 2 above for more details.

Films

It is usually sufficient to quote the film's title in the text of an essay. Include the date only if more than one film with the same title has been made. The entry in your reference list should include the director’s name, country of origin and length.

A Star is born (1927) [film] Directed by Victor Sjostrom. USA: MGM (87 mins)

Into the Wild (2007) [Film] Directed by Sean Penn. USA: MGM (148 mins)

Cited as: Into the Wild (2007) or (Into the Wild, 2007)

Journal Articles

Checklist of the details to include in a reference for a journal article:
Journal Articles - Advanced Access/Publication

Some journal articles are published online prior to their print or final publication date. These are typically called Advanced Access or Online First Articles.

When they are first made available these articles often do not have volume, issue or page details and only have a DOI or “digital object identifier”. The DOI is unique to that article and remains the same once the article is assigned to a volume and issue with page numbers.

Author (year) Title of the article. Title of the Journal [First Published online Date]. DOI. [Accessed: date]

Cited as: Ross (2013) or (Ross, 2013)

Quotations should be followed by a page number e.g. Ross (2013, p.3) or (Ross, 2013 p.3). See section 2 above for more details.

If there are no page numbers on the PDF use the numbers provided in the PDF tool bar.

Journal Article – electronic copy

Some journals are only published electronically so you need to include additional details in a reference:

[online] –this indicates the format of the item
Web location/URL - this is a link or web address for the article
[Accessed: ] – the date on which you looked at the article
[Accessed: 10th February 2019]

Cited as: Strommen and Mates (2004) or (Strommen and Mates, 2004)

Quotations should be followed by a page number. See section 2 above for more details. e.g. Strommen and Mates (2004, p. 195) or (Strommen and Mates, 2004 p.195)

Journal Article from a database

Available through ScienceDirect
[Accessed: 18th April 2019]

Or

Cited as: Reichard and Johnson (2011) or (Reichard and Johnson, 2011)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Reichard and Johnson (2011, p.39) or (Reichard and Johnson, 2011 p.39). See section 2 above for more details.

DOIs provide static links to journal articles, conference papers and some other electronic publications produced by many publishers and organisations. They are usually included in headers or footers of PDFs of articles and included on the web page from which the PDF is available. Equipped with a DOI a reader can access the item via the website at http://dx.doi.org/

Journal articles without volume, issue or page details

Some journals do not have volume, issue or page details and only have a DOI or “digital object identifier”. These are usually articles which have been published online prior to their print or final publication date. These are typically called Advanced Access or Online First Articles:

Author (year) Title of the article. Title of the Journal [First Published online Date]. DOI.
[Accessed: date]

Alternatively, some published journals replace volume numbers with seasons and pages, in which case use those.

Author (year) Title of the article. Title of the Journal [online], season/month, pages
Available at: [Accessed: ]

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. (Ross, 2013 p.2) or Ross (2013, p.2). See section 2 above for more details.

If there are no page numbers on the PDF use the numbers provided in the PDF toolbar

Journal Articles: only one page number

Some journal articles, if they are only published online, do not have page numbers. Sometimes they only have a single e number or p.e number: p.e036192. You can use this number as the start and end of the pages, e.g. p.e036192-036192 or p.e.036192-036192

Author/s (year) Title of the article. Title of the Journal [online], volume number (issue/part number), p.e036192-036192
Available at: [Accessed: date ]

If you are using a quotation it would normally be (author, year page number). See section 2 above for more details.

If there are no page numbers on the PDF use the numbers provided in the PDF toolbar

Journal Articles - print copy

Quotations should be followed by a page number, e.g. Franke and Chasim (1981, p.159) or (Franke and Chasim, 1981 p.159). See section 2 above for more details.

Secondary References

You may want to refer to a work you found quoted by another author. Always be sure to add a note including a page number to the reference in your assignment, so that it is clear that you have not consulted the original source.

Provide a reference to the item you have read in your reference list. The reader can then use that information and the page number noted in your assignment to trace full details of the item.

For example, you have read a book by Jones and he refers to a book on page 24 written by Smith in 2003. Jones is the book you have read, so that is the item which should appear in your reference list.

According to Smith (1993 cited in Jones, 2003 p.24) social ...

It was argued (Smith, 1993 cited in Jones, 2003 p.24) that social change....

Secondary References to abstracts

You may occasionally want to refer in your assignment to an item you uncovered during a literature search, but have not read in full. Include the abstract number in the reference to indicate that you are working from the abstract not the full document.

Reports/documents have page numbers so any quotes should be followed by a page number from the PDF (See section 2 above for more details), e.g. Department for Education (2010, p.29) or (Department for Education, 2010 p.29).

Sometimes there is no named person on the document. In this case you should treat the website owner as the author.

Webpage articles

If you want to refer to an article written on a website and there is an author named, your reference would follow this example:

McDonough, K. (1999) Television is not bad for my daughter (Letter to the Editor). Massachusetts News [online], September 1999
Available at: .....
[Accessed: 25th September 2019]

Cited as (McDonough, 1999) or McDonough (1999)

Quotations: you can use the paragraph or line number: McDonough (1999 para.2) or (McDonough, 1999 line23)

BBC News (2012) One in six young people not in education [online], 22nd August 2012
Available at: http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/education-19342998
[Accessed: 3rd August 2019]

BBC News (2017, para.8)

If it doesn’t have a named author, treat the webpage owner as the author.

Web pages often have very long URLs/addresses. In these cases we recommend that you include just the basic URL/address in a reference, i.e. as far as the first forward slash.

YouTube Videos

Screen name of contributor (year) Video Title, Series Title if relevant [online video]
Available at: include web site address/URL
[Accessed: ]
